OF THE
CLASS OF 1956

1875 - 1956

PROSPECT HILL
COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL

NEWARK, NEW JERSEY

ALMA MATER

Dear Prospect Hill, we hold you high,
Your memory lives forever.
The bonds of fellowship and love,
Time can never sever.

Our faith will last from year to year,
With loyalty and pleasure,
The thoughts of fun-filled days gone by,
Are memories we shall treasure.

In future years, when we're apart,
Our thoughts will linger yet,
Upon the realm of memory,
And joys we can't forget.

Long may Prospect ever stand,
Blessed by God's almighty hand.

Margot Burg, '56

THE STATELY STAIRWAY

The Stately Stairway looms before me,
In the halls of Prospect Hill,
And all my dearest memories
Are calling to me still.

Each step is a year of gladness,
Of joyful times I've had
Of learning, respect, and loyalty
And feelings, touching and sad.

And as I climb towards the top,
I wish I could run down again,
To live each year just one more time
And cherish it as I did then.

Though I must keep on climbing
And struggling forward still,
Each step I will walk in the future
Will be one I took at Prospect Hill

Maryanne Turi, '56

OUR CASTLE WALLS

All the traditions deep within
Are held there by your strength,
Time cannot decay you
Nor shorten pleasure's length.

You stand there firm and stout
In ivy-covered beauty,
Watchful of all who enter
And are filled with love and duty.

You stand and guard them constantly
As they scurry through the halls;
Then leave and wave a fond farewell,
To you, our castle walls.

GRADUATION

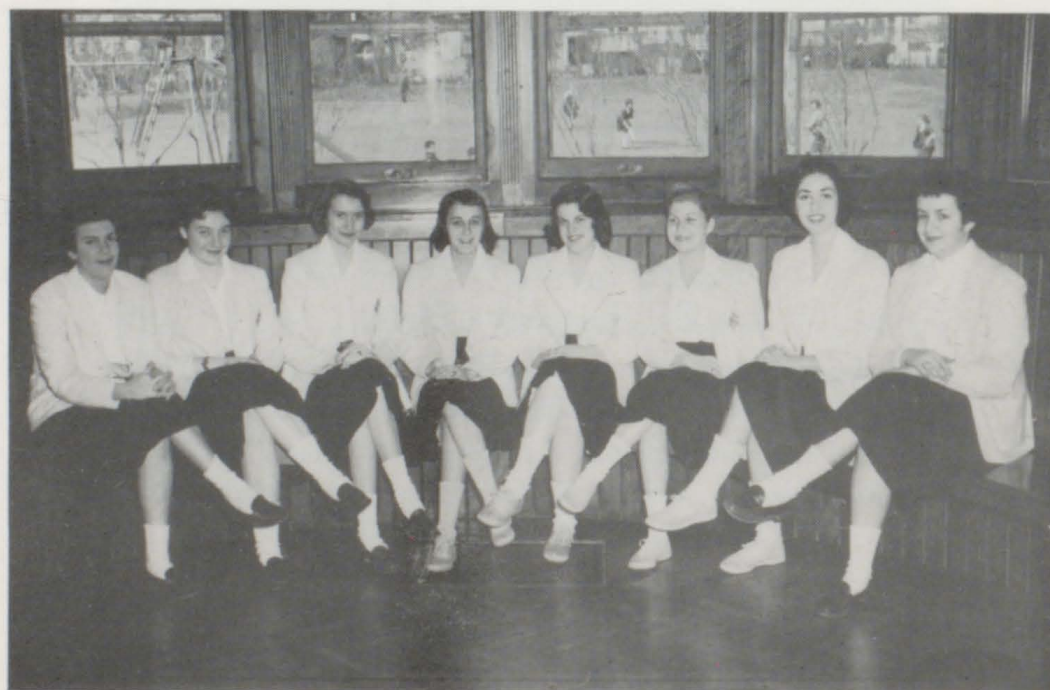

How swiftly the time flies; Commencement is near,
We've experienced the joy of our senior year.
Laughing together, and sharing the fun,
Through a year of hope, and work well done.

Filled with anxiety for days ahead,
And wondering what paths each one will tread,
Our thoughts are combined of joy and some fear,
As we venture from the school that we hold most dear.

The tumult is great on commencement eve;
It's strange, when we know that we're going to leave.
And saying 'goodbye' is the hardest of all,
Knowing we won't return, come this fall.

The friends that we have made right here,
Endure in our hearts, come every year.
And the bonds of loyalty no one can sever,
Our love for this, our school, forever.

AN ODE TO THE SENIOR SEAT

I think that I shall never see,
A seat that means as much to me;
A seat upon which I may rest,
When as a Senior I'll be blessed.
A seat of beauty and of charm,
So well guarded from all harm,
Standing proud in that privileged room,
Cherished above all, I presume.
But someday my hour'll arrive,
And upon senior seats I'll survive.
No lower classman will even come near.
They won't dare invade it; I'll make that clear.

FAREWELL TO PROSPECT HILL

Prospect Hill, we leave behind
Our hearts to thee. We always find
In every way we love thee true,
We hold thee high; we're grateful too.

In days to come we will remember
The thrill of June and joyful September.
We'll bear in mind as the years fly
The joys we've had till the last goodbye.

As we leave you now, we say
We're grateful to you in every way.
Although our paths will be apart,
Our love for you will live in each heart.

FAMILIAR SIGHTS

Prospect Hill, so straight and tall,
 Stands ever, reigning over all.
 The many familiar sights I see
 Are everlasting landmarks to me.

Lilacs swaying in the breeze
 Are joined in springtime by budding trees.
 Then comes graduation with its joys and fears,
 To be a milestone through the years.

Brenda Wiener, '56
